STRONG TRUNKS

Tribute of a Famous Physician. — Owing to the great fame of Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound, which spread with lightning rapidity, I determined to visit the great header's mamment plant. The result proved so appalling that for the benefit of suffering mankind I feel myself forced to publish the only statement I have given during a practice of twentand vicinity. My discovery that 350,600 treatments, based solely on merit, are shipped daily is bewildering. I have found Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound to effect marvelous cures in the following diseases: Catarrh, Rheumatism, Stomach Althaeuts, vorn-out and broken-down constitution, Constitution, Kidne and Liver troubles and Female Diseases. Dr. Burkhart also exercises great mercy by placing his medicine within the reach of the rich and poor alike, which is sold for the flowing insignificant sums. A thirty days' treatment for 50c., and a Six Months' treatment for $1.00. I hope that sil afflicted will share the marvelous benefits of this remedy, as the most forcible language is unable to describe its great virtues. To delay the purchase of a treatment might prove a serious mistake.

HE ONLY LASTED ELEVEN ROUNDS Clearly Outelassed by Jeffries, the New Fighter.

GREAT CROWD PRESENT

FITZ KNOCKED OUT

Former Fistic Champion Meets Defeat at Coney Island.

Coney Island Athletic Club last night defeated Robert Fitzsimmons, world's champion in two classes-middle-weight and heavy-weight-in eleven rounds of whirlwind fighting. He was never at any time in serious danger, and after the size-up in the earlier rounds of the contest took the lead. He had the Australian whipped from the ninth round. It was acknowledged that Jeffries would have an immense advantage in weight, height and age, but the thousands who tipped and backed his opponent to win were sure that he was slow and that he would in that respect be absolutely at the mercy of the past master at the science of fighting that he was to size. The men fought before a crowd of 8,000

sand calciums, and it showed their great white bodies in strange relief. When the blood came it was of an intenser red than usual. There was not a suggestion of in-terference from the police. Chief Devery occupied a seat by the ringside, but never entered the ring. When it was all over he sent Captain Kenny in to clear the ring. The contest was pulled off without a wrangle, and was devoid of the brutal ele-ments that Chief Devery alleged he feared. Never was a crowd handled with greater order and less friction. It was all perfectly orderly.

The Fight by Rounds.

They feinted, with Fitz breaking ground, Jeffries keeping almost in the middle of the ring. Jeff was evidently trying to get the right over. Fitz led left to the head, but Jeff ducked cleverly. Jeff led left and have proved to be unusually popular—and have made out photos more attractive than ever. Jeff tried left for body, but was neatly blocked. Jeff then assumed a crouching attitude, boring in with left on body, but was again blocked, and they came to a clinch. Jeff landed two lefts on body, and shot the left three times to Fitz's face without a return. Fitz tried his right for the head, but was short, and they came to a clinch, the referee going between them. Jeff tried a left chop for the head, but Fitz ducked safely. Jeff tried a left swing for the head and another for the body, but Fitz ducked away from him. Jeff then knocked Fitz flat on his back with a straight left on the mouth. The chamstraight left on the mouth. The cham-pion was up in two seconds, and then the pion was up in two seconds, and then the bell rang, and they went to their corners. Round 3-Fitz looked very determined when he came up for this round, with Jeff on the aggressive. They clinched twice without doing damage. Fitz tried a right hook for the body, but failed, and it was then seen that he was bleeding from the nose; first blood claimed for Jeffries. After another clinch, Fitz landed a hard left on Jeff's face, and repeated it three times, Jeff's face, and repeated it three times, coming to the center of the ring. Fitz landcoming to the center of the ring. Fitz landed a left swing on the jaw and a left hook on the ear. Jeff came back with a left hook on the side of the head, and they came to a clinch. After some feinting, Jeff sent both hands to the body and drove Fitz back with a left on the chest. Fitz endeavoyed to land a left swing on the head and vored to land a left swing on the head, and they came to a clinch. Fitz landed a left hook on the head, Jeff countering on the face just as the round ended.

Honors Even in Fourth.

Round 4-Fitz came up determined, and tried a right swing, failing to land, and both clinched. Jeff tried a left for the neck, but Fitz got inside of his lead, landing left on wind. Jeff sent two hard left hooks to the side of Fitz's head, jarring the champion each time. In the mix-up Fitz got his left to head and right to body.

After some fiddling and feinting Fitz sent a left straight to the eye, and was heavily countered on the body by Jeff's right. A hard right over the heart by Fitz was answered by Jeff with a left on the neck, and then Jeff planted a heavy left on the chest and Fitz broke ground, but returned quickly, shooting his left to the jaw. Round 5-Fitz led off with a left to the face, splitting Jeff's left eye, which bled freely. Jeff retallated with a hard left on the ear, and Fitz tried his right over Jeff's damaged eye, falling to land. He tried left for the head, but Jeff ducked and a clinch followed. Fitz put a light left on Jeff's mouth and forced him to the ropes. Jeff s mouth and forced him to the ropes. The Californian broke, but clinched, and broke immediately. Jeff tried a left swing for the body and left an opening, which Fitz failed to take advantage of. Fitz rushed, but in trying to side step almost fell through the ropes. He regained himself and came back with a hard left on neck and right on body. Jeff replied with two stiff hits of face, as Fitz crowded in on him. At this moment the bell separated them.

Favorable to Fitz.

Round 6-Fitz jumped across the ring, and Jeff broke ground. Fitz swung his left for the head, landing lightly, and blocked a right lead for the body. Both tried lefts for the head, but were short. Then Fitz put his left to the face and missed a right cross for the jaw. Fitz, still on the aggressive, bored in, sending left to face, Jeff countering lightly on the wind. Fitz crowded in with the left, and Jeff crossed his right to the ear. They broke from a clinch, and Fitz sent left to face and a hard right over the injured eye. Another clinch followed, and the referee Another clinch followed, and the referee had to separate them. Fitz sent left twice to head, and followed with a hard left to chest. Jeff fought back wildly, landing both hards outside Fitz's great and followed with a hard left to chest. chest. Jeff fought back wildly, landing both hands outside Fitz's guard, and after another clinch Fitz upper-cut his opponent with his right on the wind. This was the last blow of the round, which was in Fitz's circle of the ring. Fitz tried right to head, landing lightly, and Jeff got a left to the ribs. Jeff jabbed his left to the ribs and got away clean. Then the Californian endeavored to land a straight left for the face, but was blocked neatly and received a left counter on the ribs. Fitz was on the ag-gressive and sent a left far back on the neck. Jeff tried to growd Fitz on the ropes, gressive and sent a left far back on the neck. Jeff tried to crowd Fitz on the ropes, but Fitz got away nicely. Then, in a rapid mix-up, both swung rights and lefts for the head, landing lightly. Then Fitz hooked a left on the side of the head, and Jeff jumped in with a right hard on the body. Jeffries swung his left for the head, but Fitz got inside of it and drove right over the heart, when the gong sent them to their corners. This was Fitz's round. Jeffries a Little Tardy.

Round 8-Jeff was tardy in coming up, and the referee had to wave his hand to him to come to the scratch. Both men rushed matters without doing damage other than clinching, until Fitz sent his left to the ribs, and Jeff hooked two lefts to the face. Jeff tried with his right, but was short Fitz countering lightly on the chest. Fitz put a straight left on Jeff's bad eye. Jeff came back with a bard left on the body. Fitz endeavored to land a vicious swing with his left on the body, but Jeff came back with a similar blow on Fitz's head. back with a similar blow on Fitz's head. Jeff then bored in and sent straight left to Fitz's face, staggering the champion to the ropes. Nothing of any moment occurred during the remainder of the round, and as Fitz walked to his corner he smiled at his seconds. This was Jeffries' round.

Round 9—Both came up willingly, with Fitz the aggressor, but Jeff sent him back with a straight to the face. Fitz missed a left swing for the head, and received a hard right on the body. Then they clinched, and after the breakaway both tried lefts at close quarters. Jeff landing twice. Fitz.

Scenes in Jeffries' Room.

The scenes enacted in the dressing room of Jeffries, which was only a few feet away from that occupied by the defeated pugilist were of the most joyful character. Crowds of persons hammered at the door for admission, all anxious to congratulate the new champion. W. A. Brady was dancing with delight from the moment the decision was given that made him for the second time a manager of a world's heavy-weight cham-pion. "Jeffries is a corker," he said, "and there is not a man on earth can beat him. He's a wonder and no mistake. Let them all come to him now, none of them can class with him."

Jeffries himself was surrounded by a host of friends, who congratulated him on his well-won honor. In response to several in-quiries, the new champion said: "Fitz fought a good and game battle, and hit me harder than any man whom I have been up against. He can whip Sharkey in two rounds. I would gain nothing by mee ing Sharkey again, but am willing to meet any man in the world in whom the public has confidence, and there need be no fear of my quitting the ring for the stage. I will defend my title as champion at all times and against all comers. At no time during tonight's fight did I feel any misgivings as to my ability to win. I am satisfied that I have well earned the right to be called champion by beating Fitzsimmons, who was undoubtedly the greatest fighter

NEWS AT THE JEFFRIES HOME.

The Champion's Mother Sends a Con gratulatory Telegram.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 10 .- When a reporter called at the home of Champion Jeffries' father, in East Los Angeles, late last night, he found the lights out and the family as'eep. After some time the family was aroused and came down to hear the news of the fight. Mr. Jeffries, who is a preacher, and who does not approve of his son's profession, did not appear elated over the result, though he asked several questions as to what round the fight ended and if any one was hurt. Being assured that neither his son nor Fitzsimmons had sustained serious injury, he said:

"It's just as I said some time ago when I was asked for an expression as to the coming battle. The Lord was in the fight. He was with Jim and, of course, Jim won."

Mrs. Jeffries was delighted that her son had won and immediately sent the tollow-'I am glad you have won the victory you have worked so hard for.

Sharkey Claims Championship.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10 .- Tom Sharkey has issued a statement, in which he declares he is "still the champion heavy-weight of the world," and that Jeffries will have to dispose of him before laying claim to that title. He thought Jeffries had greatly improved.

RAIN STOPPED THE GAME.

Gallaudet and M. A. C. Nines Met to Decide Superiority. On account of the rain the game between Gallaudet and the Maryland Agriculture College, to determine the Maryland-District of Columbia championship, which was to be played this morning on the field of Georgetown University, was postponed. Both of the teams were on the field and had started the game when the rain came up, the score being in favor of the Maryland boys. There being no prospects of clearing up the cap-tains of both teams decided to postpone the game. Only one inning was played. Quite a number of spectators were present.

Today's Philadelphia Times has the following story of yesterday's Philadelphia-Washington game in that city: After winning three straight victories from Chicago on the home grounds, the Washingtons made their appearance at Broad and Huntingdon streets yesterday afternoon to try conclusions with our own Phillies. Their efforts were so weird and wild that even the heavens wept, and the rain, from sympathy for the spectators who were sitting it out simply because they had paid good money, fell, putting an end to the agony in the fifth inning. The visitors having completed their fifth and failing to equal their opponents' score, Philadelphia won, 9 to 1.

About the only thing the Washington players could hold was resentment against the umpires, and arguments were frequent, Padden being fined and sent to the bench in the fourth inning, when, after making a rank misplay, he endeavored to hold up Smith for declaring the runner safe at sec end. Several of the visitors took a hand in this, and Barry and Freeman narrowly escaped a slice being taken off their sal-

Fraser and McFarlan were the opposing pitchers, but the latter's reception was so warm that he lasted but an inning and a half, being replaced by Baker, who was not much of an improvement. Fraser, on the other hand, was too deep for the opposing batsmen, allowing them but two hits. The Phillies began operations right from the start, putting so much ginger into their work that even McFarlan got up to do some coaching. More life and animation was displayed than has been seen for some time, and by comparison they made Washtime, and, by comparison, they made Washington look like a cheap lot of minor leaguers. On a combination of four hits and three errors they scored two runs, following with two more in the second. One run resulted in the fourth. They clinched the argument in their portion of the fifth that was played by scoring four runs, but with one out and Fraser on base the game was called on account of rain.

Washington second their only tally in the first on Barry's double, the runner going to third on a passed ball and coming home on Base Ball Briefs. At Philadelphia again today.

The stride was too fast for the Senators. Monday the Phillies play the Senators at National Park. The Senators this year never fall down easily. It is generally a dull, heavy thud that takes them off their feet.

McFarland pitched poor ball yesterday and was evidently suffering from the terrific blow in Pittsburg. He will regain confidence soon and do good work. Manager Irwin thinks he is one of the best twirlers in the business.

Burns and Smith continued their unsatisfactory umpiring yesterday at Philadelphia, something they have been doing all season. The work of two umpires must be pretty bad when both clubs are continually kicking, as the Senators and Phillies were doing yesterday. These arbitrators have yet to receive commendation for their work. to receive commendation for their work The Baltimores and Brooklyns get together today in the oyster city, and a great contest is looked for. The Orioles, led on by McGraw and Robinson, will play their prettiest to throw down the ex-Orioles, and the Superbas will not be far away when it comes to playing the game to win.

Gus Weyhing will probably go against the Phillies today and try to pull back yesterday's defeat. Wiley Piatt is about due for the game today, and, as he is a left-hander, the road looks rocky for the Senators. But, then, base hall is mighty uncertain

The avowed desire of Manager Selee of the Boston club to have a team made up of sober and brainy players causes one to re-flect and try to get a line on the brainy players in the business. And there are so me in a game is to see a catcher, with no base ball brains, sign a pitcher equally dense, for a certain kind of ball and then have the pitcher refuse to follow the catcher's instructions and offer up some-thing else, while in truth neither really knows why he is signing for any particular Snyder, who subsequently joined the Cinricinnati team, for his catcher in Louisville. Devlin could pitch, but could not think, while Snyder had brains enough for both. while Snyder had brains enough for both. So Devlin placed himself entirely in the hands of Snyder, did just what the latter told him to do and was a success as a pitcher. Look over the list of catchers of today and where are the Snyders, the Ewings, the Kellys, the Dalys and the Bennetts? They do not exist.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

COLLIFLOWER'S GOOD WORK. He Was Well Supported and Eastern

League was opened yesterday at National Park, the contesting clubs being the Eastern Athletics and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the former winning easily by the score of 9 to 4.

letic boys had the Bureaus on the run, owing principally to the fine work on the rubber of Colliflower, who was given almost perfect support by the men back of him. But seven hits were made by the Bureaus, while Nicholson was hammered Bureaus, while Nicholson was hammered almost at will by his opponents, fifteen hits with a total of twenty bases being the record against him. Nicholson's support of the best, six misplays being was not of the best, six misplays being chalked up against his club. Hughes, Colliflower and Moran led the Selbach has been playing a remarkable fielding game since Captain Ewing switched him to the left garden. His playing has been sensational at all times, and Cincinnati players declare that not since he joined the Bale has been such form and con-

They claim they were signed early last spring by Syracuse; that they gave up positions to prepare themselves for the season, but that the club has failed to pay them any salaries or negotiate with them. The suit is for $6,000 each, $3,000 from Syracuse and $3,000 from the Eastern League.

The talk of construct-ing a cycle path was begun before it was determined to make the Great Falls path. The people behind the latter scheme were much more energetic, and have without much loss of time or any considerable news-paper advertising started to do the work, with about one-half of the necessary funds on hand received the assistance of wheelmen in general, and many, undoubtedly the largest number of subscribers to the fund, are not members of that organization, thus clearly demonstrating the fact that it is not a league affair. It is commented upon quite generally that the persons who originally proposed the path are the ones who are now almost bitterly opposed to it. This is according to the statement of a well-known wheelman interested in the project now

The cost of the entire path is defrayed from 50-cent subscriptions secured from wheelmen. Blanks requesting a subscription of this amount have been sent all tion of this amount have been sent all around, and responses have come in at a rapid rate. While only half a dollar is asked for, many riders are giving more than this sum. If one-third of the wheeling population of the District contribute the sum asked for, more than enough money will be secured to pay for the whole not have all the build asked for the whole path and also to build a cycle path around Delcarlia hill, just outside the District line, thus avoiding the two hills, one ascending and the other descending, which are such a bugbear to bicyclists, and which are frequently, the search of cycle accidents.

A meeting of the committee engaged in A meeting of the committee engaged in building the path was held last evening at the residence of Dr. W. W. Alleger. Reports as to the progress made in the work were submitted, and showed a gratifying condition of things. While the funds on hand were not entirely sufficient to pay for the entire path, it was decided to con-tinue the work and trust to the generosity of the cyclists to help finish all payments

The meet of the Morton Cadets will not be held until the latter part of the present month, or possibly the first part of July, It was the intention to give the affair on June 15, but when the announcement came for the annual camping of the National Guard the company was obliged to turn out, thus preventing the carrying out of the original idea. The meet will be under the general management of Fred Schade, who will most likely ride his first amateur race under the new racing rules on that occa

The two race meets held so far this year have been somewhat conspicuous from the fact that very few of the local professional racers were entered. The only ones were the Sims brothers and A. C. Moran. Wil-son, Mueller, Smith, Greer and a number of other men well known on the local track did not show up. Their failure to ride is attributed to the fact that they did not have sufficient time in which to train, and that had they entered they would have sood but a small show of winning against the crack men. In the coming meets the men are expected to show up in full force.
